

Jim Dove: No Room Is Too Small

Think that tiny broom closet is destined to be just that? Think again. In his Champagne Bar, Jim Dove proved there's no space too small for good design—and a fun function. “I was inspired by stories I heard of Truman Capote slipping away from a party and having a glass of champagne,” says the designer. So, he created a Breakfast at Tiffany's-themed jewel box of a space whose design details (like Schumacher moiré wallpaper on the ceiling, a faceted glass Kohler sink, and a Cambria countertop lit from below) more than make up for its small square footage. “I wanted the feeling of being inside a Fabergé egg,” he explains.
